Please note the ESRF address changes as from April 22nd:

The new physical address:
ESRF – The European Synchrotron
71, avenue des Martyrs
38000 Grenoble

The new postal address:
ESRF – The European Synchrotron
CS 40220
38043 Grenoble Cédex 9

The change of address corresponds to a physical change of the ESRF site entrance which will now be situated directly on the Avenue des Martyrs.
Please follow the instructions below and the indications given on the attached map to reach the new ESRF site entrance (the old ESRF site entrance will be closed for users):

ARRIVAL:

If you arrive by train at the Grenoble train station, take the Tram B in the direction of “Presqu’île”. Get off the tram at “Presqu’île” (terminus) corresponding to stop (1.) on the map and follow the yellow signs on foot to reach the new ESRF site entrance.

If you arrive by plane and take the airport shuttle bus, please ask the driver to leave you at the “Presqu’île” corresponding to stop (3.) on the map. Then head for the yellow signs on the map and walk up to the new ESRF site entrance.

If you arrive by car, please note that the ESRF’s new site entrance is now in 71 avenue des Martyrs, 38000 Grenoble.

DEPARTURE:

- If you leave Grenoble by train from the Grenoble train station, take the Tram B direction “Plaine des Sports” corresponding to stop (1.) on the map, and get off the tram at “Gare” stop.

- If you leave by plane and are taking the shuttle bus to the Lyon Saint Exupery Airport, please walk to the shuttle bus stop “Presqu’île” (2.) on the map and signal as the bus arrives to make sure the driver sees you and stops.
